This we are celebrating Zehra Bak (gr. 4) who took action recently in a reflective and principled way. Zehra was inspired by the Terry Fox fundraiser. She was motivated to fundraise as much as she could for cancer research. As a result, she decided to scour her house for gently used books and a few old puzzles and headed out to a neighbourhood park with her mother. There, Zehra confidently approached everyone, asking for a moment of their time explaining that she was selling her books and toys to raise money for the Terry Fox fundraiser. Later, she set up a fundraising page with the help of her mom. Zehra ended up raising $166 for cancer research. Way to go!
