IB NEWSLETTER

This week we are celebrating Dyson Leslie (gr. 6), whose kindness and natural empathy have made a big difference in the life of a younger student. Without being asked, Dyson took it upon himself to connect with a grade 2 student during after-school hours. He regularly spends time with him—helping, playing, and simply being a steady, friendly presence. Dyson makes an effort to be there for him. Dyson never mentioned any of this to his teachers or parents—however the daycare staff noticed his kindness and wanted to share just how thoughtful he has been. Dyson truly exemplifies the IB Learner Profile attributes of being caring, principled, and open-Minded. Thank you, Dyson, for showing us the power of quiet leadership and compassion!
